Gifts Should Be Selected With Care---Not Too Early to Begin

To Make Christmas Shopping An Unalloyed Pleasure

Lose your unhappiness in making others happy.

There's a real joy in making others happy at Christmas. The token of love, or affection, or friendship, may be very small in itself, and cost but little; but it should be carefully chosen. The gift's value is chiefly in the thought that goes with it.

If you begin Right Now, make up your gift list and select leisurely, not only will you have more comfort and pleasure, not only be able to choose each gift with the proper consideration of its appropriateness, but quite likely spend less money than when buying under pressure of limited time.

This store is full of beautiful and practical helps for the holidays, and we are going to contribute this season to your happiness at the yuletide, by helping you to make others happy in the gifts you select for them.

waters, ranks Rear Admiral Fletcher by virtue of seniority the British commander has notified the American admiral that he wishes to subordinate himself in co-operation with the United States forces. This fresh evidence of friendly feeling and hearty co-operation between the two governments was received here today with manifest gratification.

Rear Admiral Coadwell has been advised by Rear Admiral Fletcher of the extent of the plans adopted by the American commander to engage the British as well as American forces at Tampico and at Tuxtepec. The action of the British admiral in sailing away from Tampico is taken as evidence that he was satisfied with the adequacy of the American force.

To Protect Life and Property.

The return of the battleship New Hampshire to Vera Cruz from the northern oil fields was interpreted to indicate an abatement of the tension in that quarter. The principal object of the naval commander's action with the American oil company officers on the oil coast is now being directed to securing such an understanding with the constitutional leaders as will insure the safety of foreign life and property.

Plot Against Huerta Formed by Officers

Major Victor M. Newman, 22, of the United States army, who is on duty at Tampico, has been advised by a confidential source that a plot has been formed by a number of officers to assassinate General Huerta. The plot is said to have been formed in the city of Tampico, where the general is now residing.

Constipation

When the bowels do not move freely it shows that the liver is inactive, and the bile, instead of being eliminated by the intestines, is taken up by the blood. In consequence the internal organs are diseased and you have a bilious attack. After frequent attacks the skin becomes sallow and rough. You are troubled with headache, constipated tongue, bad breath, sour stomach, loss of appetite and you feel out of sorts. The contents of the alimentary canal should be well evacuated every day.

Silver Lake Estates

NEVER has a business proposal put before the people of Atlanta, Georgia and the South, met with more prompt or gratifying response than our invitation to join us in the purchase, development and sale of the SILVER LAKE property.

We knew we had a splendid business proposition.

It needed only that others should find it out.

THEY HAVE FOUND IT OUT.

They came by the hundred to our SILVER LAKE ESTATES display shown last week at 57 Peachtree street.

Many of them subscribed and signed up; many others are ready and will complete their subscriptions this week.

Gathered from our exhibit we have the names of 1,000 persons, everyone of whom expressed interest in our plans--

ENOUGH TO ESTABLISH SILVER LAKE ESTATES TWICE OR THREE TIMES OVER

Some of the best business men of Atlanta and the South are with us.

One man came in from New York to join us; another from Philadelphia, while still another came from Pittsburg, and is preparing to subscribe.

One man came to us from North Carolina, and South Carolina is represented several times.

A Florida business man sent a personal representative to look into SILVER LAKE ESTATES; that representative has advised him that it is good.

Middle Georgia sends in a $10,000 subscription, and South Georgia has come forward with its duplicate.

We might go on detailing incidents one after another almost indefinitely, but the meat in the coconut is that--

MORE THAN ONE-HALF OF THE $500,000 CAPITAL NEEDED FOR SILVER LAKE ESTATES HAS BEEN TAKEN!

If you are interested and care to know the names of the prominent business and professional men who have joined us, the list is open to your inspection at our offices.

The object of this advertisement is to let our friends and subscribers know that--

SILVER LAKE ESTATES IS MORE THAN ASSURED.

It is not a case of "WILL BE"--IT IS!

Silver Lake Estates

NEVER has a business proposal put before the people of Atlanta, Georgia and the South, met with more prompt or gratifying response than our invitation to join us in the purchase, development and sale of the SILVER LAKE property.

We knew we had a splendid business proposition.

It needed only that others should find it out.

THEY HAVE FOUND IT OUT.

They came by the hundred to our SILVER LAKE ESTATES display shown last week at 57 Peachtree street.

Many of them subscribed and signed up; many others are ready and will complete their subscriptions this week.

Gathered from our exhibit we have the names of 1,000 persons, everyone of whom expressed interest in our plans--

ENOUGH TO ESTABLISH SILVER LAKE ESTATES TWICE OR THREE TIMES OVER

Some of the best business men of Atlanta and the South are with us.

One man came in from New York to join us; another from Philadelphia, while still another came from Pittsburg, and is preparing to subscribe.

One man came to us from North Carolina, and South Carolina is represented several times.

A Florida business man sent a personal representative to look into SILVER LAKE ESTATES; that representative has advised him that it is good.

Middle Georgia sends in a $10,000 subscription, and South Georgia has come forward with its duplicate.

We might go on detailing incidents one after another almost indefinitely, but the meat in the coconut is that--

MORE THAN ONE-HALF OF THE $500,000 CAPITAL NEEDED FOR SILVER LAKE ESTATES HAS BEEN TAKEN!

If you are interested and care to know the names of the prominent business and professional men who have joined us, the list is open to your inspection at our offices.

The object of this advertisement is to let our friends and subscribers know that--

SILVER LAKE ESTATES IS MORE THAN ASSURED.

It is not a case of "WILL BE"--IT IS!

If you are interested with us, we congratulate you!

Commonsense and Christmastide

When Commonsense invaded the spirit of Christmas everybody saw it coming and grabbed for it. Everywhere "shop early" signs are seen, and everywhere men and women are heeding the hammering urge.

The creed is that the Christmas shopping shall be a pleasant business--that shoppers no longer shall squander valuable vitality in the waiting line, nor expend fertile impulses in the futile reach for a remaining idea.

And beyond the comfort of the thing taken in time, the gift proclaims the care invested in it.

Your early Christmas call at MUSE'S will carry its profit to all parties concerned. You'll not miss the perfect thing to present should you choose it here, nor the perfect choice should you seek it early.

The gift you send from MUSE'S covers a forceful combination of the beautiful and the serviceable--a judicious getting away from the frivolous.

The name of MUSE puts a high-grade brand of excellence upon your gift.

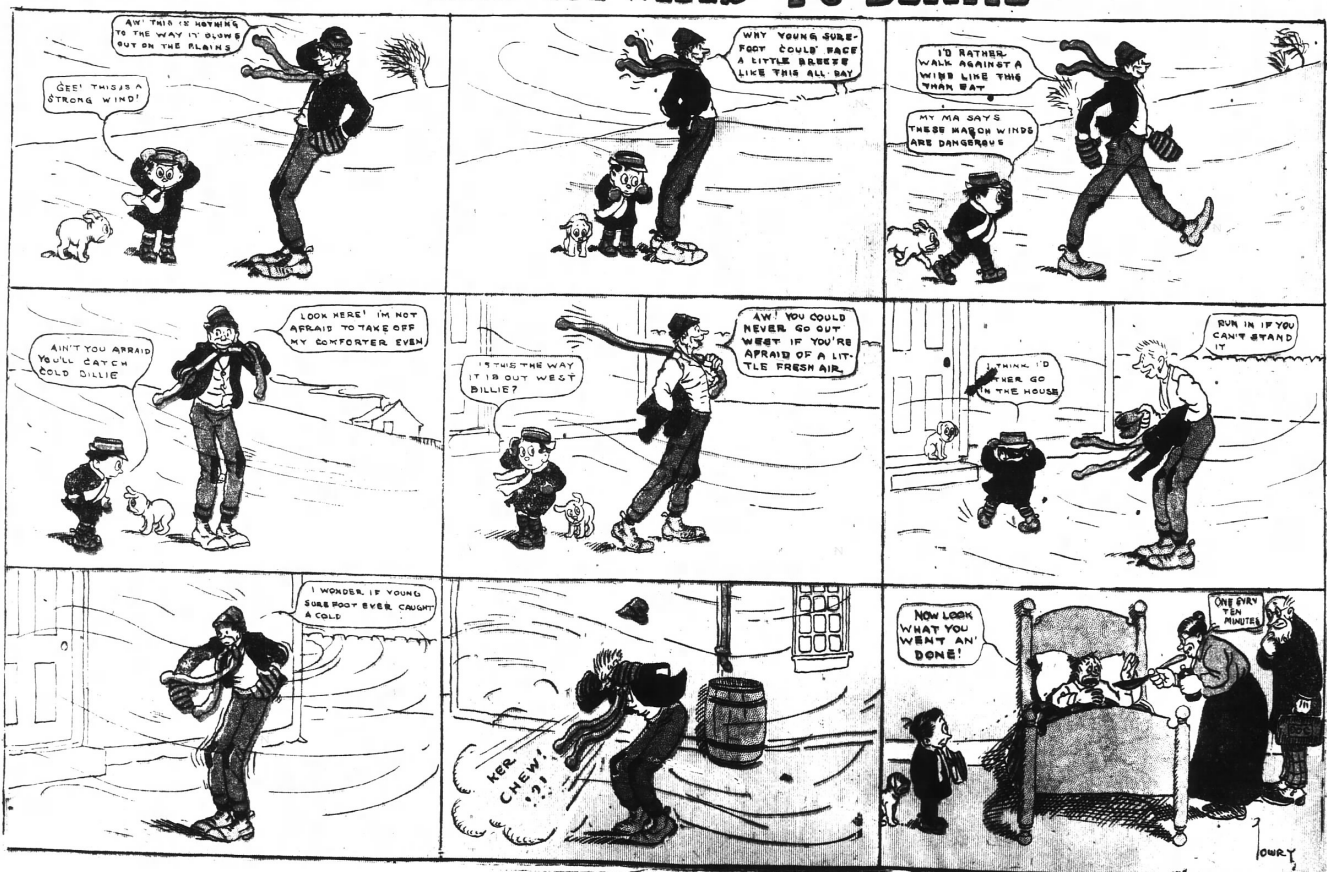

Here is the idea: Perfect it while Christmas shopping is yet a pleasant business.

SEABOARD BRIDGE
UP TO COMMISSIONRailroad Declines to Build
Until Street Car Company
Agrees to Give Certain Guarantees.

The proposed street car line extension through Brady place to Howell street is being held up because the Georgia railroad and Power company refuses to give a guarantee for adequate service to employees of the Seaboard Air line railroad, and further because it has declined to enter into a contract to keep up the superstructure of a 2,000 steel bridge which the Seaboard is willing to erect over the tracks.

Until the Georgia Railroad and Power company enters into the agreement, or until the controversy is adjusted in some amicable way, the Seaboard will not erect the bridge and all the work that has been done toward making the project possible will be for naught and the scores of persons living in the neighborhood of the proposed extension will continue to suffer.

Seaboard Makes Announcement.

The fact that the Seaboard will not build the bridge until the railway company enters into the agreement has been made known by G. B. Carlton, division superintendent of the Seaboard last night. The ultimatum came to Atlanta in the shape of a letter from General Manager J. H. Stewart, President Preston S. Arkwright, through whom the Seaboard negotiated for the contract, has taken the position that both matters are in the hands of the Georgia railroad commission to decide and citizens who favored the extension project say that the commission will be asked to take possession of the matter.

According to authentic information the railroad commission will be asked to decide the issue. It is probable that a petition will be filed some time during the week.

As the proposition now stands it is not likely that work will be started on the extension at an early date, but it is an assurance that the line will be extended the Union Stock yards gave a trip of the land for the right-of-way of the line and the county commission made a cut for the right-of-way and graded the street. The county authorized its task money to the Seaboard. The work was raised to complete because it was understood that the Georgia Railroad and Power company would be ready to start work at as soon as the county finished the grading.

Wants Schedule Arranged.

With all obstacles in the way, the railway company throws an ultimatum to the public. It is to enter into an agreement with the Seaboard to build the bridge under a contract with more than 400 of the shop employees of the Seaboard from the city to the shops and from the shops to the city. According to Superintendent Carlton four trains a day will be run for the purpose. The Seaboard asks the railway company to provide a schedule to take the line into the city, also to provide adequate cars.

Telegraph News, Hot Off the Bat, Is Phoned
Direct to Linotype Operator in Columbia

SCENE IN THE OFFICE OF THE COLUMBIA STATE.

Chapman, S. C. November 29.—A number of prominent newspaper men associated with the Columbia State office this evening saw a practical demonstration of the new method of direct transmission of news matter from the state of South Carolina, and while the "copy" reader was sending the item from the News and Courier office to the operator putting the item in type in the State office in Columbia, it was simultaneously being copied in the office of the Spartanburg Herald, the Greenville News, and a second office in the State building.

The new method of direct transmission of news matter over a "talking" circuit to a linotype machine eliminates fifty per cent of the time heretofore required to handle news matter.

In the country, and will be the cause of writing the names of the Charleston and Columbia papers into modern newspaper history in future years.

In addition to the practical demonstration of the idea in use, the circuit was operated the entire length of the state of South Carolina, and while the "copy" reader was sending the item from the News and Courier office to the operator putting the item in type in the State office in Columbia, it was simultaneously being copied in the office of the Spartanburg Herald, the Greenville News, and a second office in the State building.

New Evening Wraps

THIS season evening wraps are more gorgeous than ever before. The cloak in the centre is made of an exquisite Japanese blue brocaded velvet, that at the upper left is of a vivid green brocade, trimmed with ermine and curled ostrich feathers. The other wrap on the upper part of the page, which is made of rust-colored poplin, is likewise trimmed with curled ostrich feathers. The effect is very dainty. The cloak beneath is made of a Chinese mandarin coat. The remaining evening wrap is, beautiful, indeed, bestrewn, as it is, with blue, rose and yellow beads over a satin foundation of a soft Alice blue.

HAD CATARRH OF THE STOMACH.

Peruna Relieved a Serious Case. Mr. A. M. Ikard, of Lexington, Ky., writes: "I had catarrh of the stomach and small intestine for a number of years. I went to a number of doctors and got no relief. I had a very bad case of the stomach and small intestine. I took five bottles of Peruna and I feel like a new man. There is nothing better than Peruna, and I keep a bottle of it in my house all the time."

Mr. A. M. Ikard.

It is a remarkable story that Mr. Ikard tells. It is a true story, but very briefly told. If you put into his story all of the details it would make a chapter of disease and agony, but the final recovery, equal to the wildest fiction. Any one wishing to do so can write Mr. Ikard and ascertain whether there has been any exaggeration in his story.

The "ills of life" will be sent free by addressing the Peruna Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Those who object to mild medicines can now procure Peruna Tablets.

Robert Hilliard Pleased With New Type of Stage Detective

As Detective Kayton, in "The Argyle Case," explaining use of the dictagraph.

The mood of an actor is powerfully affected by the character that he is playing. So says Robert Hilliard, who created a new type of stage detective in "The Argyle Case," one of the sensational successes of recent years. This is peculiarly true when he plays it night after night and month after month.

It might go further and add that his physical health, as well as his mental attitude is affected.

EXTENSION OF SPRING

TO INCREASE VALUES

Grading of School Lot Already Passed Up and Committee Is Pushing Work.

What is believed to be a new method of relieving the daily increasing congestion along Peachtree street and also increasing the real estate values in either side will be the grading and widening of Spring street north to the road just south of Brookwood. The street which is intended to be a cut-off for automobiles and other traffic going north will enter Peachtree road just north of the residence of F. A. Rhodes and the feet south of the F. L. Serley home.

Direct connection on a street from Peachtree street car lines will thus be established between Brookwood and the terminal station. At no point in the plan which will have a width of 100 feet will the street be less than 100 feet wide.

FACTS ABOUT ATLANTA

SHOWING HER GROWTH

Industrial Bureau Prepares Interesting Tables Which Will Be Shown in Hotels.

Figures that tend to put Atlanta's advantages and opportunities before the visitor, be he investor or tourist, will soon be displayed in the principal hotels and in the two depots. Secretary W. H. Leamy, of the industrial and statistical bureau of the chamber of commerce, has compiled statistics showing the wonderful growth and development of Atlanta. The figures are attractively printed on large cards and will be framed and placed where they will attract attention.

One of the most striking features of the display and one that shows the wonderful building development of recent years is shown in the following table:

What is believed to be a sure method of relieving the daily increasing congestion along Peachtree street and also of increasing the real estate values of either side will be the grading and extension of Spring street out to Peachtree road just south of Brookwood.

The street which is intended to be a boulevard for automobiles and other traffic going north will enter Peachtree road just north of the intersection of A. G. Rhodes and 190 feet south of the F. L. Seeley home.

Direct connection on a street free from street car lines will thus be established between Brookwood and the terminal station. At no point on the the work to which T. L. Winslow, chairman, is raising funds to have an exhibit of the work of the committee. Plans for the work to be done. Winslow has asked that each property owner be given a card showing the value of ten cents per front foot of property they own facing on Springfield.

On Saturday morning members of the committee appeared before the city council to ask for the committee to be authorized to make a survey of the property owners of which Sheldn Smith is chairman. The committee has the school list and it approaches at Springfield and East Springfield. The survey will be completed by the middle of January.

The school lot fronts 256 feet on Springfield street and extends back on Eighteenth street. The grading is such that the public works commission is required to build a 12-foot sidewalk which includes about 1,000 feet all in

The committee intends later to ask the county to grade the street in many other places where it is to be made level. City council will be asked to appropriate money for the work, including the work. Property owners on the street and automobile owners who will use the street will also be asked to contribute. The committee feels that many people living north of the city will use their machines daily to come to the city and will give from $5 on up to a larger amount in order to make possible the new

We are writing this letter to advise you of our efforts to make Spring street a boulevard, and to request your aid in making the boulevard driveway from Brookwood to the terminus of Spring street.

This is the main topic of interest in Atlanta's rapid advance among Spring street cities.

Definite plans actually under way will soon make this possibility a reality and we are confident that the Spring street boulevard will be a fact.

The first step will be the employment of a firm to make a permanent grade, street plan, profiles, maps, etc.

For this purpose and for other initial requests, we are sure you will be helpful.

The committee in charge has estimated that an assessment of the front foot frontage will be required to defray the cost of providing every Spring street property owner with a boulevard driveway.

It is our hope that you will shoulder the wheel and help along the project.

Therefore we would request that you endorse this project.

interest in this great improvement and help in this initial fund. Any residue from the purchase of actual physical improvements, such as new buildings, will be used for the operation, and if by chance you have sold some of the old buildings, please advise the secretary, G. A. Martin, 5905 13th St. for check.

Don't give up your work seriously and honestly and by so doing you will be sure to get a general good and incidentally doing a lot of good for the community. Don't delay a single day. Send your money in by mail while the matter is fresh in mind.

BULLITT-CAMBLOS.

Big Stone Gap, Va., November 29.—(Special)—A marriage of unusual and widespread interest on account of the prominence of the families of the contracting parties took place at Christ Episcopal church, Big Stone Gap, at 6 o'clock, the evening of Thanksgiving day, when James Lyle Camblos, of Atlanta, Ga., led to the altar Miss Margaret Bullitt, daughter of the late Mr. Bullitt, of Big Stone Gap, and Rev. Herbert Lloyd, of Big Stone Gap, officiating.

The marriage was the outcome of a romance which began five years ago at Cape May, Va., and while it was not a particularly elaborate affair, it had been planned out of respect to the religious nature of the ceremony.

Mr. Camblos, yet it was beautiful in every simplicity.

Bench-made $7.00 boots	5.50
Hand-welt $6.00 boots	4.75

		Harris (Auburn)

The picking of an all-southern team is always a job that must necessarily be more or less guesswork, as it is practically impossible for anyone to see every team in even one game.

Even this would not be much help, because a player should be selected for his work throughout the whole season rather than for his work in any one particular game.

At least, that is the way the writer is going to look at it, and certain players that might otherwise be eligible are not to be considered because of their

Very prominent among these are Brown and Morgan, of Vanderbilt; very good men and, very probably all-southern players, but, as far as their value to Vanderbilt is concerned, they are not worth the price paid for them. Morgan has not been in college. Another man is Taylor, of Auburn; he was the most important man in Auburn's defense system, and very important in the offense system. Taylor's value to Auburn is not so high as it was last year, but he cannot be considered.

While the writer has seen nearly all the strong teams play, there are some he has not seen, and so an injustice may be done to some good players.

A man also is liable to do an injustice to some of his own players because he knows their weakness, seeing them every day and only seeing other players perhaps when going to the top of the stridor. One is also liable to lean backward when dealing with his own players, for the fear that he will show them any partiality.

With all these misgivings that I undertake the task of expressing one among many opinions of what an all-southern team should be composed of:

The Center Trio.

Thiagen was the best guard of the year: shifty, aggressive, with plenty o' weight, he is all-southern by big margin. He was perhaps the most consistent player in the Auburn line, and that the kind of steady player you need on the line.

Lockwood, at the other guard, was hampered a good deal by injuries, but he played in nearly all the important games, and was always prominent by his work. Not as shifty as Thigpen, he was still impervious to any assault around his territory, and occasionally surprised opponents by breaking through and nailing the runner, for a loss. The average of the year on centers was not up to the usual S. I. A. A. standard.

Malone was valuable as an interferer, and was occasionally used to carry the ball, while Klock played a very aggressive and hard game against Auburn. If Wynne, of Auburn, could have been kept at guard, he would have been as good as any; but his work was interfered with a great deal by being played in several positions.

Stead, of Auburn, was a good center, but had Pitts ahead of him, and so were Putnam, of Vanderbilt, and Loeb, of Tech.

The Tackles.

There are more candidates for the tackle positions. There were a good many fair tackles, but no really great ones, except perhaps Brown, of Vanderbilt, who is omitted for reasons already mentioned. If Louisell, of Auburn, had not been hampered by injuries most of the year, I would choose him, and if I had to pick a combination at the end of the season to play any other combination, I would take him for tackle. His kicking is, also, a very important factor. He was out a good deal of the time, however.

Perhaps the best and most consistent tackle of the year was Schilleter of Clemson. He is heavy, aggressive, and a hard man to handle. He has held his own, and has mostly outplayed every man he has been against this season. For the other tackle, I will pick a player who, while he has not played that position, showed every indication that he could play it, and play it well.

Dutton, of L. S. U., played a roving center against Auburn, sometimes coming through at guard, sometimes at tackle, but always boring and tearing things up. He gave Auburn more trouble than any lineman this year. Esslinger of Auburn, was a good, steady player in this position, as was also Turner

The Ends.

Robinson, at right end for Auburn, was the best end of the year, and it was nearly impossible to get him out of the way. Enoch Brown, of Vanderbilt, was also good, but not as good as last year. The cares of being captain and trying to help out a weak line interfered with the effectiveness of his work. Kearley, of Auburn, is a good end that was spoiled by being shifted to the backfield in an effort to add weight to that department. He worked well in the backfield

Halfbacks. In the backfield, there is no trouble about the halfback positions, as Newell and McWhorter stood head and shoulders above everyone else, though I did not think that McWhorter was quite as good as he was last year. They are both fast, shifty, and capable of standing all sorts of punishment. Newell, in spite of his light weight, played in eight S. I. A. A. games

Other good halfbacks were Cook, of Tech; Vandergraff, of Alabama, and Logan, of Clemson.

To my mind, the best man of the lot is Paddock, of Georgia—heady, experienced, and a brilliant individual player. Boensch is as brilliant an individual player, but not nearly as good a general. He was very brilliant in his individual playing against Auburn, but the fact that Auburn was perhaps playing the poorest game of the year may have had something to do with it. The other quarterbacks followed these closely. In fact, the competition here is keener than for any other position.

At Fullback.

The question of fullback will bring on a lot of discussion. Harris, of Auburn, was the most talked-of fullback of the year. For a man of his weight, he is the most wonderful fullback I have ever seen. How ever, he weighs only 147, and it is very doubtful whether he could stand

There were other good fullbacks at Auburn—Christopher and Bidez. Whenever these men were good, they were very good, but they were not as consistent as Harris. Vanderbilt could not stop Bidez, but against Georgia it was Christopher that could not be stopped.

This team is a little weak in just one department of the game, and that is punting. Paddock is fair, but not as good as Louissell. The team, however, is good in all other departments of play, and could be moulded into a formidable team.

More Field Goal Kicking

In 1914 Football Season

By Edward R. Bushnell.

Philadelphia, November 29.—(Spe-field counted 5 points. Then it was reduced to 4 points, and finally to cial).—Predictions are dangerous things, but the writer is willing to venture that next year will see more drop and place kicks scored than ever before in the history of the game. The tide toward drop and place kicking set in strongly even this year. Three of the eastern championship games were featured in not having seen a single touchdown scored. Harvard beat Princeton by the score of 3-0, a drop kick by Brickley contributing all the points. Yale and Princeton played each other to a tie, 0-0. Later, each side scoring one drop kick. Then came the Harvard-Yale game. It was a very close, a field goal. Yet the fact remains that two teams may be evenly matched in all other respects, yet one team possessing a clever drop kicker be able to score almost at will.

It is true, now stand it is impossible for either of two evenly matched teams to score touchdowns except on trick plays. They cannot even do it o ward-Yale game, which neither side could score a touchdown. Harvard scoring five field goals and a safety for Yale, the Elis getting three additional points for a drop kick by Guernsey.

There is no doubt that this curious situation will appeal strongly to the other Intercollegiate Football Committees. Football coaches have always preferred touchdowns to field goals, and the rules committee has consistently changed the rules of the game in order that more touchdowns may be scored. They have worked on the theory that touchdowns are to football what batting is to baseball. Originally a goal from

CLOSE IN ON IVY STREET we have a small corner lot at $700 per front foot. This is one of the best little corners on the street, and will bring $1,000 per front foot before long. It would make a good store location now. Can be made to bring a good interest on the investment, besides the enhancement feature.
